Supporting
disabled children
and their families

Sandwell Parents for Disabled Children is a registered charity that supports disabled young people and their families in Sandwell.

What SPDC can offer to disabled children, their siblings and their families...

FAMILY ACTIVITIES

Throughout the year SPDC provides a range of activities to enable all family members to have fun together, make friends and create positive memories whilst taking part in a variety of exciting and sometimes challenging opportunities. Get your whole family together and join us for family clubs and games nights, water sports, sporting, crafting and social events plus so much more...

ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

SPDC also provide opportunities for disabled children and young people to branch out, challenge themselves or simply enjoy new activities whilst meeting new friends. As far as we are concerned, the sky's the limit and there's nothing we won't consider!

PARENT CARER ACTIVITIES

We like to see parent carers having a break. We provide short sessions such as advice & well-being sessions, social events, pamper treatments and craft activities. We are also able to offer individualised support to help with any challenges you may have in your caring role or life in general.
